

Appointment of new Technical Sales Engineer

ScanTech Offshore welcomes Colin Griffiths.

ScanTech would like to welcome the newest member to our team, Colin Griffiths, Technical Sales Engineer. Colin joins Scantech with over 30 years in Well Construction, Well Completion, Well Testing and Well Intervention Services experience at leading oilfield services company, Weatherford.

Colin has joined us to champion our Completion, Intervention & Workover system, the Safety Bails.

With excellent technical and industry insight, Colin is our new key contact for enabling operators and rig owners to protect riser assemblies against accidental compensator lock-up, which is now a serious consideration for many during locked to bottom operations. Safety Bails are an engineered solution to reduce the risk of harm to personnel, environment, installation and reputation during accidental overload conditions as a result of compensator lock up during Completion, Intervention and Workover.

You can read more on the Safety Bails HERE.
